

For 35 years, ACOF has developed permanent homes in a service-enriched environment, empowering individuals and families affected by homelessness and mental illness to lead independent lives. Our steadfast commitment to our mission and our unparalleled housing production record have long distinguished ACOF as a respected leader in the field. Strengthened by our on-site case management services and specialized programming including substance use recovery, health and wellness, family and children's services, and professional development, ACOF has continued to grow and innovate the delivery of permanent supportive housing for people affected by mental illness. Today, ACOF's 2,700 tenants, which include single adults, families, children, seniors, transitional-age youth, and veterans, live in 43 buildings across Southern California, and, together with our employees, make up the fabric of ACOF.

Partnering with ACOF as a sponsor helps us continue the important work of providing homes and comprehensive services to those we serve. Your support of ACOF demonstrates your commitment to our mission of ending homelessness in Southern California, which is without a doubt the toughest crisis facing our region today.
